Itinerary

DAY 1 Tetbury & Highgrove Gardens

Meet your expert guide at Kemble Station and head straight into 1,300 years of Tetbury history. Climb Gumstool Hill, visit St Mary's, and (if royal schedules allow) explore King Charles' Highgrove Gardens. Reconnect with your group over a cosy countryside dinner—no icebreakers needed, just good food and great company.

Ascent: 82ft (25m); Descent: 115ft (35m)

DAY 2 Roman Roads to Bath

Follow an old Roman road into Bath, arriving as travellers did 2,000 years ago. Tick off the Royal Crescent, Bath Abbey and the famous Roman Baths. There's even time for a pub stop in Nailsworth on the way back—because great walking trips deserve equally great pints.

Ascent: 295ft (90m); Descent: 394ft (120m)

Meals included: Breakfast

DAY 3 Bibury, Monarch's Way & Burford

Start in Bibury, wander past Arlington Row, then follow the Monarch's Way to Chedworth Roman Villa. Your guide brings the stories to life, from Roman grandeur to Civil War secrets in Burford's church. Afterwards, you can explore the high street, pop into the church, and enjoy some well-earned free time.

DAY 4

Blenheim Palace Walk & Tour

Stroll through Blenheim's sweeping parkland—Capability Brown at his most theatrical—past lakes, streams and sculptures. After a picnic among fountains and hedgerows, head inside for tales of statecraft and Winston Churchill's early days. Then it's off to Moreton-in-Marsh: your final stop and a market town that knows how to unwind properly.

Chipping Campden to Broadway

From Chipping Campden, walk to Broadway via Hidcote's famous garden rooms. Your guide leads the way to Broadway Tower before descending into one of the prettiest villages in the Cotswolds. Here, you can wander among honey-stone buildings and visit the Lygon Arms—once a haunt for both Charles I and Cromwell.

DAY 6

Oxford & Farewell

Wrap things up with a walking tour of Oxford's spires, courtyards and cobbled lanes. Visit a college, pause at the Turf Tavern, and watch punters drift along the river. After lunch, it's time for goodbyes—but the city's direct train links make heading home almost too easy.
